

DIMAS STUDIO

HISTORY - ABOUT US

Dimas studio was set up in 1990. We started our activities in leased premises from the former Slovak State Film Productions dubbing studio in Koliba, and were formerly known as DAVAY, DAVAY Studio Brno, DiMaS. The building and development of our own premises was completed in 1993; these premises are situated in the grounds of the former SPTU in Trnavska Street. Our facilities accommodate a video-editing studio and two air-conditioned sound studios. These studios were built by "house in house" technology to achieve the complete soundproof effect and high quality acoustics. In harmony with the widening of the range of services offered, in 1999 we changed our to DIMAS s.r.o. which stands for Digital Master Studio. The main activity of the studio used to be professional dubbing, at present we edit and produce any kind of sound and picture with primary recording of a digital quality on professional systems. We can produce every type of recordings and rewritings on known sound and picture carriers. Our studio has an extensive range of professional skills and experiences in the area of sound and picture production. We have edited and produced approximately 1800 movies in Slovak and Czech versions and for this achievement we received the "Gold loop - Zlata Slucka" Gold loop award (an award of the year for the best Slovak dubbing). The aim of our professional team is to provide an ideal development and production of every project, manage it all the way to its final stage and meet the high standards and satisfaction of our customers.
